

A couple of notes on
COHESIVE (or Coherent) PLANNING:

(v v To go directly to ENDORSEMENTS, please scroll down v v)

Cohesive Planning...

AN ART, NOT A BUSINESS STRATEGY, Luck...or Hit-And-Miss 'try real hard and hope'.

If one is a Cohesive Planner, you walk head-on into a specific, pesky, stubborn problem...one that just WILL NOT GO AWAY, no matter WHO'S been put on it before.

It is a problem which is seriously draining of money, time, energy and enthusiasm...the far-reaches of which materially affect profitability...on many levels and spans. It is a situation in which the solution has gotten to be WORSE than the problem, or ADDS TO IT in such a way that it appears continually larger and more convoluted with each and every well-executed attempt to flatten it for good...by each and every highly qualified person you put on it.

It is a problem which seemingly, woke up, developed an awareness of ITSELF...
...and NOW DOESN'T WANT TO BE OUT OF A JOB.

The only way a problem of that sort can be made to go away, and STAY gone away, is to put it in the hands of someone who says "I Will Make the Problem go away."

And if you were to say, "Mmm...but...you aren't an expert in my field of business, in fact...you don't even seem to know much (if anything) about my business and/or how it operates..."

A Cohesive Planner would smile, and simply and cordially reply:

"It isn't about KNOWING something.

It is only about making the problem go away."

Do you--

- 1) REALLY DESIRE to disappear this problem?
- 2) Have BUDGET...to MATCH the importance of your problem?
- 3) Have the willingness to give whatever AUTHORITY might be needed until the problem is permanently flattened?

--If so, we can talk.

When one has real, shapeshifting understanding of the foregoing, then one
'standsunder' •contrasted with• 'understands' ...
Cohesive Planning.

To whom it might concern:

Over the past twenty years, Forbes Company has successfully utilized Dion Smith as a consultant and business problem-solver.

In particular we have sought Dion's assistance in solving problems that seemed virtually insurmountable. Dion was successful in going right to the top of specific organizations that were strategic to our operations, then motivating executives to act on the behalf of Forbes Company.

I can honestly say that, without exception, Dion's endeavors were successful on our behalf. I recommend him and his skills highly.

Sincerely,

Barry Forbes, CEO

To Whom This May Concern:

I was faced with the recent challenge of putting together a successful concert event from scratch...with no advertising budget, and a time frame of 72 hours before curtain. I considered who I might want to recruit for the job of co-creating swiftly and efficiently. I knew that parallel consciousness was a must.

I have always loved working with people who operate from the word "yes", and move forward into HOW IT WILL, instead of the more traditional doubter's mindset of WHY IT CAN'T.

I decided that the best choice for this task was my friend Dion Smith.

Dion joined hands with me, and combined with the power of e-mails, phone calls, some elbow grease, and most impressively...a website designed by Dion himself, exclusively for the event...we rejoiced in the unfolding of a truly miraculous, and successful evening.

Dion is a powerful, and creative spirit who is an absolute joy to work with. I look forward to connecting with him again on some project in the future.
